DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

New corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in this application because there don't appear to be any actual formal or informal drawings in the case. Those relied on are rather poor copies from the foreign priority documents. Applicant is advised to employ the services of a competent patent draftsperson outside the Office, as the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office no longer prepares new drawings. The corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The requirement for corrected drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

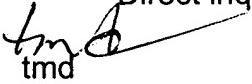

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Claim 1 notes that there is "at least one conductive material layer; then goes on to cite "one of two outlying conductive material layers". The two descriptions are incompatible. Please check the claim language in entirety to insure that no other such problems are extant.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The prior art cited reads on at least some aspects of the applicants' invention as it is best understood.

Note that while no art has been cited under a statute to reject the claims, the claim language is so indefinite that art is not being applied against it at this time. When the claims are made definite a consideration of their relationship to the invention may be made.
